

Laser Optical Disk and Video-Based Information Systems

The New Technologies

May 17-20, 1987
Kings Island Inn
Kings Island, Ohio

asis The Information Society for the Information Age

1424 16th Street, NW Washington, DC 20036 202/462-1000

in advance) Geneva C

Hotel Lobby

Industry Matterhorn East

resident, Information Workstation Group, noted authority on optical in the use of CD-ROM for very large databases.

President, Learned Information, Inc., Medford, NJ; and George L., Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY

0:50 a.m. Geneva D

*Technology for Training
via Information Systems
(Data Bases) (NDB)*

Shen Pfuderer, Oak Ridge
Laboratory, Oak Ridge, TN

*Issues in Using Interactive
Training.* Catherine E.
Sheila McCullough, Oak
Ridge Laboratory, Oak Ridge, TN
Development Tools for Training. David E. Smith, Oak
Ridge Laboratory, Oak Ridge, TN
Management Team. Arleen
works, Cambridge, MA

10:00 a.m.-10:50 a.m. Geneva E

CD-ROM: Who Needs It?

3IG/Behavioral and Social Sciences (BSS);
Information Services to Education (ISE); Rural Information Services (RIS)

Moderator: Ken Harmon, University of Denver, Denver, CO

11:00 a.m.-11:50 a.m. Geneva C

CD-I: A Powerful Interactive Audio-Video System

Moderator: Lawrence Woods, McDonnell
Douglas Computer Systems, Irvine, CA

- Bert Gall, Product Manager for CD-I,
Philips International B.V., Corporate Group,
Home Interactive Systems

in advance)

Matterhorn

Geneva A-B

Reflections

ge Station, TX

tbia University, NY, NY

0 p.m. Geneva D

Technology in the Information Science

Information Science (ED)

phen P. Harter, Indiana Bloomington, IN

ertz, Simmons College,

settland, University of Waukegan, WI

erson, Indiana University,
N

3:20 p.m.-4:30 p.m. Geneva E

Large Scale Image Processing

Moderator: Jeffrey Jackson, Michigan
State University, East Lansing, MI

This session will focus on methods of organizing images in a videodisc to address complex retrieval issues.

- The Emperor Project. Ching-chih Chen,
Simmons College, Boston, MA

3:20 p.m.-4:30 p.m. Geneva D

CD-ROM: User Issues

Moderator: Michael O. Adams, Digital
Equipment Corporation, Bedford, MA

- User Reaction to CD-ROM Searching. Ray
R. Larson and Mary Kay Duggan,
University of California, Berkeley, CA
- Challenges for Information Policy Frameworks. Karen J. Sy, University of Washington, Seattle, WA
- How Usable is the User Manual for Your CD-ROM System? Joanne M. Murphy,
OCLC Online Computer Library Center,
Inc., Dublin, OH

in advance)

Courtyard

ipate in an outdoor barbecue, complete with recreational activities.